HOW THE HALL OF FAME WORKS

Any person who has made an outstanding contribution to football in Australia shall be eligible to be nominated for the Australian Football Hall of Fame.

There will be three categories involving 'on the field' and 'off the field' participants. Players must have been retired for a minimum of three years to be eligible, while all other candidates (coaches, referees, officials and media) are eligible at any time.

HALL OF CHAMPIONS/HALL OF HONOUR

Awarded for eminent service or contribution in any area of soccer football activity. Outstanding performance on the playing field in an Australian representative capacity will be recognised in the Hall of Champions, while outstanding performance as an official or other non-playing capacity will be recognised in the Hall of Honour. This award will be the highest recognition which can be given for contribution to the growth and development of the game in Australia.

MEDAL OF EXCELLENCE/ROLL OF HONOUR (Distinguished)

This award recognises distinguished service or contribution which is above and beyond what would be expected of players and non-players. It recognises a player who has represented Australia at an international level on a significant number of occasions, or a non-player whose contribution has achieved national recognition.

AWARD OF DISTINCTION/ROLL OF HONOUR (Meritorious)

This award is made for outstanding service or contribution which is beyond what would be expected. It recognises those persons whose contribution has been selfless in the development of soccer in Australia from the grass roots level and who have earned admiration and respect for their contribution.

FOREWORD

On behalf of Chairman Frank Lowy and the Board of Football Federation Australia I would like to welcome you to the 2005 Australian Football Hall of Fame.

The Australian Football Hall of Fame serves to recognise individuals who have made a significant contribution to the development of the game in Australia. Induction is a manner of saying 'thank you' for your contribution in a public forum.

The Hall of Fame is a system of awards that recognises both 'on field' and 'off field' achievement. The inductees come from a wide spectrum of the soccer community and may have served the game in any capacity - players, administrators, coaches, referees or media.

The history of Australian football is a rich one and something that has not always been fully appreciated by the wider football and sporting fraternity. Just last month saw the 125th anniversary of the first recorded football match in Australia, whilst next year we celebrate 50 years since the Melbourne Olympics; a tournament which signified Australia's first foray into a major international tournament.

I would like to take this opportunity to place on record my sincere thanks for the hard work and dedication of the Hall of Fame Honours Committee for their ongoing efforts this year and in previous years.

As we head down an exciting new era for the game in Australia it is as important as ever to recognise those individuals who have contributed to the sport in the past, and no doubt will continue to do so in the future.

Finally, I would like to sincerely congratulate all inductees for their outstanding contribution and thank everyone involved for their work in continuing to recognise Australia's football history.

1880 — AUSTRALIAN FOOTBALL BEGINS

THE KING'S SCHOOL

It was a momentous week for Australia 125 years ago in August in 1880.

At one end of the scale, bushranger Ned Kelly was committed for trial for murder while at the other, two groups met to herald the introduction of organised soccer football into Australia.

Sydney Morning Herald on Saturday August 14 wrote: "This afternoon, that portion of the public partial to the winter pastimes will have the opportunity to witness the game of football under three different sets of rules, namely, the Rugby, NSW Association and English Association."

WS Brown (Capt)

HM Bayliss

J Ewing

JC Gilmore

G Mackay

John Walter Fletcher

English schoolteacher John Walter Fletcher and keen sportsman James A Todd formed a Sydney team, later named the Wanderers, and their challenge to find an opponent was quickly accepted by The King's School at Parramatta.

Mr W R Burkitt, a master at King's, organised the School team and refereed the match. The School played in a hooped sky blue and white jersey, dark knickerbockers and sky blue and white hooped socks. The Wanderers played in a white jersey with a southern cross badge, knickerbockers and blue socks.

The Wanderers team was: J Todd (capt), W J Baker, J W Fletcher, C E Hewlett, C F Fletcher, Wastinage, W Robertson, W Simpson, R Chapman, D Roxburgh, J Scott (goal). Chapman and Roxburgh were School Old Boys.

The King's team was: W S Brown (capt), H M Bayliss, J Ewing, J C Gilmour, G Mackay, J W Manchec, G de L Ryrie, C G Wade, A L Wade, L A Wade, G Wickham, A T Fenwick. C and A Wade were brothers; L Wade a cousin.

In his match summary, the Herald reporter wrote: "The first match in NSW under English Association rules was played by the newly formed club and the King's School at Parramatta.

"The visitors had a very fair team, allowing for the fact that hardly one of them had played for some years. This advantage was however balanced by the fact that the boys had not played these rules before.

"The game was well contested for an hour and a half and terminated in favour of the visitors by five goals to none. The number of goals however must not be taken as a criterion of the play which was remarkably even, particularly after half time, the boys on several occasions only failing to score on account of their want of familiarity with the art of passing and middling the ball.

JW Manchec

G de L Ryrie

CG Wade

L Wade

G Wickham

"On the side of the English club all played well, but the play of Roxburgh at back was remarkably good and invaluable to his side and Scott's goalkeeping deserved praise.

"On the King's School side, the play of Fenwick was very fine and he would make a grand Association player. Mr Savage, an old international player, coached the School team."

To celebrate the centenary of soccer in Australia in 1980, The King's First X1 played Johnny Warren's Invitation X1, called the Wanderers for the occasion.

In 1988, the King's School donated the Wanderer's Cup for the AAGPS 1st X1 competition. The inscription on the trophy reads: "The Wanderer's Cup for AAGPS soccer presented by The King's School to mark the first game of soccer in Australia between The King's School and the Gentleman Wanderers played at Parramatta on 14th August 1880." Ironically, The King's School is yet to win the AAGPS competition.
